Headline:
Sunshine and showers today, then turning milder and wetter tomorrow.

Today:
Bright with sunshine and a few short-lived blustery showers. These briefly heavy with hail possible and locally wintry over the highest ground at first. Feeling cold in brisk north-westerly winds. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers continuing this evening, particularly in the north and west. Becoming dry overnight with patchy frost developing in the east. Turning cloudier in the west with light rain later. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Saturday:
A generally cloudy and increasingly damp day with rain and drizzle in the west spreading east to most areas. Becoming much milder but with extensive low cloud and hill fog. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Remaining largely unsettled and cloudy with rain at times. Strong winds are also likely at times but staying on the mild side.
